RE: Transparency Statement of Evaluation Data and Results for Indonesia
Evaluation of Peatlands

As per MCC guidance on responsible data management¹ and following Integra's requirements for responsible data management, the data associated with this evaluation is not available for public and/or restricted access use.

This data was the product of key informant interviews and focus group discussions, consisting of qualitative data provided by representatives of the three grantees, their beneficiaries, and the regulators. In these interviews, the participants requested and were granted anonymity. Our consent form guaranteed anonymity; to honor this contract between enumerators and informants, the interview records should be sealed because, given the small sample size, it is not feasible to de-identify the data. The information contained does indicate the source even without names being used. Likewise, the information contained in the interview records cannot be shared without putting informants at risk. Any attribution puts a source at risk of retribution no matter what their role, with the government informants being particularly sensitive to exposure.
